Re: Richard K. Pobst, et al. v. Garden Realty Corporation
Buchanan County Circuit Court; Case No. 486-08

Dear David:

Enclosed is a certified copy of the Final Order entered by Judge Williams on December 7. I am delivering this to you as agent for CNX. Please note that this Order resolves the conflict between Garden Realty Corporation (the coal owner) and Richard K. Pobst, et al., (the gas owners) on Oakwood Units O(-1), O(-2), P(-1), P(-2), P(-3), Q(-1), Q(-2), R(-1) and R(-2). A general map of the acreage at issue is attached as Exhibit 1 to the Order.

The Court has ordered that the Plaintiffs are to receive their proportionate share of royalties associated with gas (including CBM) production from these units. I understand that some or all of these royalties may have been held in suspense or escrow by CNX. To the extent that CNX has done so, this Order requires CNX to pay such amounts to the Plaintiffs within 30 days of receipt of the Order.

Please call me should you have any questions.

Very truly yours,

FINAL ORDER

This matter came before the Court on the Plaintiffs' for Summary Judgment, whereupon the Court received the papers submitted by the parties and heard oral argument of counsel on February 23, 2011. By letter dated May 2, 2011, the Court indicated its ruling, granting Plaintiffs' motion. Defendant filed a Motion to Reconsider on May 18, 2011. The issue presented by the Plaintiffs' Complaint and its Motion for Summary Judgment is whether the Plaintiff oil and gas owners or the defendant coal owner owns the coalbed methane ("CBM") underlying a certain tract of land in Buchanan County containing 250.22 acres, and generally depicted on the attached Exhibit 1. For good cause shown and for the reasons stated in the Court's letter of May 2, 2011, which is incorporated by reference as

Exhibit 2, the Court finds that there are no material facts in dispute which would prevent a ruling as a matter of law in this case, and, accordingly, hereby FINDS AND ORDERS as follows:

1. Because there are no issues of material fact in dispute regarding the ownership of the CBM at issue, the Court grants Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment, finding that the Plaintiffs own the rights to the CBM in that certain tract of land consisting of 250.22 acres, conveyed to Pobst and Combs as Tract 30 in the deed of December 4, 1937, of which the coal, metals and timber were conveyed as Tract 30 to Levisa by the 1937 Deed and subsequently conveyed by Levisa to Garden Realty Corporation as Tract 2 in the Garden Realty Deed. This finding resolves all dispute as to the conflict of ownership of CBM within such tract and particularly within the portions of the units designated under the Oakwood Field Rules as O(-1), O(-2), P(-1), P(-2), P(-3), Q(-1), Q(-2), R(-1) and R(-2), the "Conflict Units", that contain portions of such tract.

2. The Court ORDERS that the Plaintiffs shall receive their proportionate share of royalties associated with gas (including CBM) production from the 250.22 acre tract, including those now in escrow (including present and future conflicts between Plaintiffs and Garden Realty Corporation as to the Conflict Units); and that CNX Gas Company, LLC, the operator of the gas wells in these Conflict Units, is required within thirty days of notification of this Court's decision to file with the Virginia Gas and Oil Board a petition to disburse from escrow account to Plaintiffs all principal and accrued interest associated with the gas (including CBM) produced from or attributed to the 250.22 acre tract at issue. To the extent that CNX Gas Company, LLC has not escrowed royalties associated with Plaintiffs' interests in these Conflict Units but has instead otherwise paid them or placed them in some other suspense account, CNX Gas Company, LLC is ordered to pay such amounts to Plaintiffs within thirty days of receipt of this Order.

3. The Motion to Reconsider by Garden Realty Corporation is denied for the reasons stated in this Court's letter of October 20, 2011, which is incorporated by reference as Exhibit 3. The issues raised in such motion relate largely to a claim of trespass which is not presented by Plaintiffs' motion or by any counterclaim by Defendant. Objections to CBM wells by coal owners are governed by Va. Code § 45.1-361.1, et seq., and the procedures and regulations promulgated thereunder. The validity of any objection by the coal owner to well permits or pooling orders does not alter the determination of ownership as between identified conflicting claimants.

4. The Court retains jurisdiction over this matter until Plaintiffs' have received all escrowed, suspended, or unpaid but earned royalties as ordered herein.

5. The Clerk is directed to forward attested copies of this Order to all counsel of record.

Entered this 7th day of DECEMBER, 2011.

Objections of Garden Realty Corporation to the Order Granting Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment and Order
Denying Defendant's Motion for Reconsideration

1. Garden Realty objects to ¶ 2 of the Order which directs the distribution of royalties now escrowed with the Virginia Gas and Oil Board prior to the date on which the Defendant is entitled to file a notice of appeal with the Virginia Supreme Court.
2. Garden Realty objects to the Order's conclusion that the Pobst - Levisa Coal and Levisa Coal - Garden Realty deeds which contained inconsistent grants and were executed by the same individuals who were or controlled the grantors in both deeds were found not to create an ambiguity.
3. Garden Realty objects to the Order's conclusion that the grantors under the Pobst - Levisa Coal deed retained the coalbed methane (CBM) when they deeded the coal and others substances to Levisa Coal.
4. Garden Realty objects to the Order's conclusion that the grantors under the Pobst - Levisa Coal and Levisa Coal - Garden Realty deeds, who were shown to be sophisticated lawyers and businessmen in their era, intentionally retained CBM under their deed to Levisa Coal when the CBM was known to be a hazard and liability.
5. Garden Realty objects to the Order's conclusion that the grantors under the Pobst - Levisa Coal and Levisa Coal - Garden Realty deeds, who were shown to be sophisticated lawyers and businessmen in their era, intentionally retained CBM under their deed to Levisa Coal when the common law and statutes in effect at that time imposed upon owners of coal and operators of coal mines the duty to ventilate mines of unsafe gasses.

6. Garden Realty objects to the Order's conclusion that the facts presented in the case of Harrison-Wyatt, LLC v. Ratliff, 267 Va. 549, 593 S.E.2d 234 (2004) are similar to those of the present case.
7. Garden Realty objects to the Order's conclusion that the Plaintiffs were deemed to authorize another person, CNX Gas which operates the CBM wells at issue in the case, to fracture Garden Realty's coal seam without establishing the legal source of that right.
8. Garden Realty objects to the Order's conclusion that the Plaintiffs were deemed to authorize another person, CNX Gas which operates the CBM wells at issue in the case, to invade and occupy Garden Realty's coal seam without establishing the legal source of that right.
9. Garden Realty objects to the Order's conclusion that the entry and occupation by CNX Gas into Garden Realty's unmined coal seam authorized by the Plaintiffs does not constitute a trespass.
10. Garden Realty objects to the conclusion that the Court relied upon language found in its opinion and order in Harrison-Wyatt regarding a surface owner's right only to recover CBM which had separated from the coal when the uncontroverted evidence in the case is that CNX has fractured Garden Realty's unmined coal seam in order to recover CBM.
11. Garden Realty objects to the conclusion that the Court relied upon language found in its opinion and order in Harrison-Wyatt denying a surface owner's right to fracture a coal seam to recover CBM when the uncontroverted evidence in the case is that CNX has fractured Garden Realty's unmined coal seam in order to recover CBM.
12. Garden Realty objects to the conclusion that the Court relied upon language found in its opinion and order in Harrison-Wyatt regarding a surface owner's right only to recover

CBM which remained in the mine void upon the conclusion of coal mining when the uncontroverted evidence in the case is that CNX has fractured Garden Realty's unmined coal seam in order to recover CBM.

13. Garden Realty objects to the conclusion that the Court reached in its opinion to Garden Realty's motion for reconsideration that the Supreme Court's 2004 decision in Harrison-Wyatt determined ownership of CBM as a matter of law.
14. Garden Realty objects to the conclusion that the Court reached in its opinion to Garden Realty's motion for reconsideration that a trespass upon Garden Realty's coal seam is "collateral" to the issue of ownership of the CBM and royalties derived therefrom.
15. Garden Realty objects to the conclusion of the Court that ownership of the CBM can be determined without finding that the owner also possesses the right to enter the coal seam owned by another for the purpose of drilling wells, occupying the coal seam for an indefinite time, fracturing the coal seam and recovering CBM or for having the legal right to lease those rights to another person.
16. Garden Realty objects to the conclusion of the Court in its opinion to Garden Realty's motion for reconsideration that an application of Acts 2010, April 13, 2010, which amended Va. Code 45.1 – 361.21.1, does not act as a retroactive application of that provision of law to deeds executed between 1937 and 1941.
17. Garden Realty objects to the conclusion of the Court that the inclusion of the foregoing issues as affirmative defenses as part of Garden Realty's answer did not create a dispute of material facts which foreclosed the entry of summary judgment in favor of the Plaintiffs.

18. Garden Realty objects to the Court's conclusion that the Plaintiffs have produced sufficient evidence to demonstrate that it meets the definition of a "gas or oil owner" and the definition of a "royalty owner" found in Section 45.1-361.1 in order to entitle it to payment of escrowed royalties under the provisions of Section 45.1-361.1.22.5.
19. Garden Realty objects to the conclusion of the Court that Garden Realty is entitled to no compensation under the terms and provisions of its lease with the gas well operator given under the provisions of Section 45.1-361.1.29-F.2.
20. The Court's opinion and Order fails to acknowledge, or in any way deal with or rule upon, the Defendant's first affirmative defense, second affirmative defense, third affirmative defense, fourth affirmative defense, and fifth affirmative defense set forth in its answer to the Plaintiffs' Complaint for Declaratory Judgment.

Re: Richard K. Pobst, et al. v Garden Realty Corporation, Case No.: 486-08

Dear Counsel,

The above-styled case is now before the Court on the Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment. Richard K. Pobst, et al. (Plaintiffs) filed a Complaint for Declaratory Judgment against Garden Realty Corporation, CNX Gas Company, LLC, and Island Creek Coal Company to determine the ownership of coalbed methane gas (CBM). Subsequent to the filing of the Complaint, CNX Gas Company, LLC and Island Creek Coal Company were dismissed as parties, leaving Garden Realty Corporation (Defendant) as the sole Defendant. On March 2, 2011, this Court conducted a hearing on the Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment. After thorough review of the court file, submitted briefs, evidence, and oral arguments presented at the February 23, 2011

J. Scott Sexton, Esq.
Eric D. Whitesell, Esq.

hearing, the Court now makes the following ruling on the Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment.

I. Facts

The current dispute is the result of the extraction of CBM from a 250.22-acre tract of land (Subject Property). The Defendant in this case owns the coal estate. The Plaintiffs in this case assert that they are the owners of all oil and gas located in or upon the Subject Property. Prior to this action, the coal estate of the Subject Property was severed and conveyed to the Defendant by deed.

Pursuant to separate agreements with the Plaintiffs and the Defendant, CNX Gas, LLC is extracting CBM from the Subject Property. As part of this process, CNX Gas has physically stimulated the coal seam by a method known as fracturing. Fracturing of the coal seam results in CBM collecting within gas wells. CNX Gas has declared that there are conflicting ownership claims to the CBM located under the Subject Property, and therefore, to the gas royalties generated by the wells. These royalties have been deposited into an escrow account, in accordance with Virginia law, until the ownership issue is resolved.

A. The Deeds

There are three consecutive severance deeds, all involving the Subject Property, that are pertinent to the present case. First, a deed executed on December 4, 1937 (Prater-Pobst Deed), in which the Prater Land Company conveyed certain property rights to F.H. Combs and H. Claude Pobst. (Ex. C to Compl.). Second, a deed executed on December 28, 1937 (Pobst-Levisa Deed), in which H. Claude Pobst, Mary Alice Pobst, F.H. Combs, and Harriet R. Combs conveyed certain property rights to Levisa Coal Corporation. (Ex. D to Compl.). Third, a deed executed on January 8, 1941 (Levisa-Garden Deed), in which Levisa Coal conveyed certain property rights to the Defendant. (Ex. E to Compl.). An analysis of the explicit language contained within these three severance deeds is necessary to determine the ultimate outcome of this case.

The language of the Prater-Pobst Deed grants and conveys to F.H. Combs and H. Claude Pobst, "all of the coal, oil, and gas as well as all such other minerals, metal and timber as the party of the first part may own or be entitled to in or upon the lands hereinafter identified." (Ex. C to Compl.). The Prater-Pobst Deed subsequently identifies the Subject Property. Id.

The language of the Pobst-Levisa Deed grants and conveys to Levisa Coal, "all of the coal, metals, and timbers, together with all rights, privileges and easements incident thereto, in, or under the following described parcels of land..." (Ex. D to Compl.). The Pobst-Levisa Deed subsequently describes the Subject Property. Id.

Blair M. Gardner, Esq.
J. Scott Sexton, Esq.
Eric D. Whitesell, Esq.
5/2/2011

The language of Deed C grants and conveys to the Defendant, "all of the coal, metals, and timber and other substances and all rights, privileges and easements... on or under" the Subject Property. (Ex. E to Compl.).

In sum, the Prater-Pobst Deed explicitly conveys the rights to coal, oil, gas, minerals, metals, and timber in or upon the Subject Property. The Pobst-Levisa Deed explicitly conveys the rights to coal, metals, and timber in or under the Subject Property. The Levisa-Garden Deed explicitly conveys the rights to coal, metals, and timber and other substances on or under the Subject Property.

Accordingly, when the Pobst-Levisa Deed was executed, it did not include the rights to oil, gas, or minerals, as the Prater-Pobst Deed had explicitly included. Indeed, the Pobst-Levisa Deed contains a narrower conveyance than the Prater-Pobst Deed.

B. The Pobst and Combs Transfers

By deed dated April 23, 1947, H. Claude Pobst and Mary Alice Pobst conveyed "all of the oil and gas in, on and under" their undivided one-half interest in the Subject Property to their children, John W. Pobst, Nancy S. Ellis and W. Kent Pobst. (Ex. F to Compl.). The Plaintiffs, Richard K. Pobst, Nancy C. Pobst, John W. Pobst, Jr., Virginia Lee Linwick, and Meredith Ellis Jennings are the heirs and successors of the children of H. Claude Pobst and Mary Alice Pobst.

F.H. Combs died in 1956, leaving two descendents, C.H. Combs and Helen Combs Johnson. The will of F.H. Combs is recorded in the Clerk's office of the Circuit Court of Buchanan County at Will Book 2, Page 554. C.H. Combs and Helen Combs Johnson each inherited a one-half interest of F.H. Combs one-half interest in the Subject Property. The Plaintiffs, Carol C. Irvin, Martha E. Combs, Frederick Harmon Combs II Testamentary Trust, Kelly Combs Necessary, Trustee, and Fairview Limited Partnership are the heirs and successors of the children of F.H. Combs and Harriet R. Combs.

Accordingly, each Plaintiff asserts the following ownership interest in the gas and oil rights of the Subject Property:

1. Richard K. Pobst- 8.33%
2. Nancy C. Pobst- 8.33%
3. John W. Pobst- 8.33%
4. Virginia Lee Linswick- 8.33%
5. Meredith Ellis Jennings- 8.33%
6. Frederick Harmon Combs II Testamentary Trust, Kelly Combs Necessary, Trustee- 8.33%
7. Carol C. Irvin- 8.33%
8. Martha E. Combs- 8.33%
9. Fairview Limited Partnership- 25%

Blair M. Gardner, Esq.
J. Scott Sexton, Esq.
Eric D. Whitesell, Esq.
5/2/2011

This ownership ratio of the gas and oil rights of the Subject Property is not in dispute. (Def.'s Answer 14-15).

II. Applicable Law

A. Harrison-Wyatt

In Harrison-Wyatt v Ratliff, 267 Va. 549 S.E.2d 234 (2004), the Supreme Court of Virginia heard an appeal of a Buchanan County Circuit Court ruling involving a similar set of facts as those in the present case. In that case, Ratliff and others owned the surface and all minerals located upon and within the relevant property, except the coal. Id. at 550. Through a series of severance deeds, Harrison-Wyatt, LLC became the eventual owner of the coal estate. Id. The issue in Harrison-Wyatt was whether title to the CBM passed with the severance of the coal estate. Id. Harrison-Wyatt contended that the owner of the coal estate was also the owner of the CBM. Id. The surface owners filed for declaratory judgment asking the Court to determine the owner of the CBM. Id. The Circuit Court entered judgment in favor of the surface owner and the Supreme Court of Virginia affirmed. Id. at 557.

In deciding Harrison-Wyatt, the Circuit Court examined the language of the concerned severance deeds and the definition of coal at the relevant time period. Id. at 553. From this examination, the Circuit Court determined that CBM is not a chemical constituent of coal and is a severable estate. Id. Accordingly, the Circuit Court determined that, "the grant of coal rights does not include rights to CBM absent an express grant of coalbed methane, natural gas, or minerals in general." Id. Therefore, in the event that a grantor executes a severance deed conveying the coal estate to a grantee, the grantor retains the CBM absent an express grant of CBM, natural gas, or minerals in general.

B. Virginia Code § 45.1-361.21:1.

Subsequent to the Supreme Court of Virginia's decision in Harrison-Wyatt, the Virginia Legislature enacted Virginia Code § 45.1-361.21:1. This portion of the Code serves to codify the decision of Harrison-Wyatt and states, in part, "a conveyance, reservation, or exception of coal shall not be deemed to include coalbed methane gas...." Va. Code Ann. § 45.1-361.21:1.

III. Discussion

A. Plaintiff's Argument

In resolving the ultimate issue of this case, the Plaintiffs would have the court adopt the following reasoning: (1) the Pobst-Levisa Deed did not make an express grant

Blair M. Gardner, Esq.
J. Scott Sexton, Esq.
Eric D. Whitesell, Esq.
5/2/2011

of coalbed methane, natural gas, or minerals in general; (2) without such an express grant, the rights to CBM did not pass to Levisa Coal through the execution of the Pobst-Levisa Deed; (3) therefore, Levisa Coal could not subsequently convey the CBM to the Defendant in the Levisa-Garden Deed; and (4) consequently, the named heirs and successors of H. Claude Pobst and F.H. Combs own the CBM.

B. Defendant's Argument

The Defendant objects to this line of reasoning on two grounds.

First, the Defendant proposes that Harrison-Wyatt does not result in the inflexible rule that a grant of coal rights does not include rights to CBM absent express language in the conveyance. Rather, the Defendant views Harrison-Wyatt as a guide for Courts to examine what has been conveyed in a deed. Specifically, the Defendant notes that in the Circuit Court's Letter Opinion, when interpreting the terms of the severance deeds specific to Harrison-Wyatt, it stated, "the Court is left with no alternative but to examine the terms used in light of the common understandings, along with other facts and circumstances, during that time period." (Op. at 5) In light of this statement, the Defendant argues that it was the intent of the parties to include a conveyance of the CBM upon the execution of the Levisa-Garden Deed.

In support of this, the Defendant points to the words "other substances" found in the Levisa-Garden Deed. (Ex. E to Compl.). In oral argument, Counsel for the Defendant asserted that the term "other substances" includes CBM. In his written brief, Counsel for Defendant presents several well-conceived reasons as to why "other substances" was intended to include CBM.

However, this argument cannot overcome fact that a grantor cannot convey what the grantor does not own. The Supreme Court of Virginia has held, when construing the terms of a deed:

where the language in the deed... is clear, unambiguous, and explicit... a court called upon to construe such a deed should look no further than the four corners of the instrument under review. Furthermore, if the language is explicit and the intention is thereby free from doubt, such intention is controlling, if not contrary to law or to public policy, and auxiliary rules of construction should not be used.

Irby v Roberts, 256 Va. 324, 329 (1998).

Blair M. Gardner, Esq.
J. Scott Sexton, Esq.
Eric D. Whitesell, Esq.
5/2/2011
Page 6 of 7

The Pobst-Levisa Deed, which was executed in 1937, does not contain an express grant of coalbed methane, natural gas, or minerals in general. (Ex. D to Compl.) Furthermore, this Court finds that the language used in Pobst-Levisa Deed is clear, unambiguous, and explicit. As is such, Levisa Coal did not obtain the rights to the CBM from H. Claude Pobst, F.H. Combs, Mary Alice Pobst, and Harriet R. Combs. Consequently, it was impossible for Levisa Coal to subsequently convey those rights to the Defendant in the Levisa-Garden Deed.

In addition, the Defendant argues that if the Court were to rule in favor of the Plaintiffs, it would be permitting a trespass upon the Defendant's coal seam. This Court rejects this argument as it did in Harrison-Wyatt. As previously stated:

the surface owner need not trespass on the coal estate to retrieve the CBM because the Court holds that the surface owners' right to the CBM only extends to that which has separated from the coal. The Court does not hold that the surface owners have the right to frac the coal in order to retrieve the CBM... Once the coal is removed, the surface owners retain the ownership of the resulting void and have full rights to retrieve the CBM left behind, as well as the rights to profit from CBM captured during the venting process.

(Op. at 7-8).

IV. Conclusion

Rule 1:11 of the Supreme Court of Virginia promulgates the standard for summary judgment. In part, Rule 1:11 states, "it must appear from the pleadings, an order made at a pretrial conference, or an admission in the proceedings, or after the court has sustained a motion to strike the evidence, that the movant is entitled to judgment." A Court may not grant summary judgment if any material fact is genuinely in dispute. Carwile v Richmond Newspapers, 196 Va. 1 (1954). Furthermore, all reasonable inferences must be drawn in favor on the non-moving party. Andrews v Ring, 266 Va. 311 (2003).

The language of the Pobst-Levisa Deed is clear and unambiguous. It does not contain an express grant of the gas estate to Levisa Coal. Rather, the Pobst-Levisa Deed conveys to Levisa Coal, "all the coal, metals, and timber." (Ex. D to Compl.). Stated earlier, CBM is not conveyed with the coal estate absent express language. Harrison-Wyatt, 267 Va. at 553. Therefore, H. Claude Pobst, F.H. Combs, Mary Alice Pobst, and Harriet R. Combs retained ownership of the CBM when they executed the severance deed to Levisa Coal. As Levisa Coal did not acquire the rights to the CBM in 1937, it was

Blair M. Gardner, Esq.
J. Scott Sexton, Esq.
Eric D. Whitesell, Esq.
5/2/2011

impossible for Levisa Coal to convey the CBM to the Defendant in the subsequent Levisa-Garden Deed.

There is no genuine issue of material fact before the Court at this time. The sole issue presently before the Court is the application of law to the language of the relevant severance deeds. As such, after drawing all reasonable inferences in favor of the Defendant, it appears to this Court that the Plaintiff is entitled to summary judgment. The Plaintiffs, in accordance with the interest ratio stated above, are the owners of the CBM located in or upon the Subject Property.

Mr. Sexton is directed to prepare an Order reflecting the findings of this Court and to forward the same to Mr. Whitesell and Mr. Gardner for endorsement and then to the Court for entry.

Sincerely,

Judge Keary R. Williams

Re: Richard K. Pobst, et al. v. Garden Realty Corporation, Case No.: 486-08

Dear Counsel:

The above-styled case is now before the Court on the Defendant Garden Realty Corporation's Motion and Memorandum for Reconsideration. Specifically, the Motion seeks reconsideration of the Court's May 2, 2011 letter opinion granting the Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment. After thorough review of the Court's file, submitted briefs, and oral arguments presented at the June 16, 2011 hearing, the Court now makes the following ruling on the Defendant's Motion for Reconsideration.¹

¹ The Court acknowledges the long delay from the June 16, 2011 hearing to the date of this letter. The delay is attributed to this Court's desire to review the most recent decision in Addison v. CNX Gas Co., LLC, 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 50276 (W.D. Va. May 10, 2011).

I. Facts and Procedural History

On August 19, 2008, the Plaintiffs filed a Complaint for Declaratory Judgment pursuant to Va. Code Ann. § 8.01-184. In the Complaint, the Plaintiffs seek the determination of ownership over Coalbed Methane Gas (CBM) located within a certain tract of property in Buchanan County, Virginia (Subject Property). On November 29, 2010, the Plaintiffs filed a Motion for Summary Judgment. On March 2, 2011 the Court held a hearing on the Motion for Summary Judgment and heard Counsel's oral arguments. On May 2, 2011, the Court issued a letter opinion outlining a ruling that granted the Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment and directed Counsel for the Plaintiffs to prepare and present an order reflecting the findings of the Court. Before such an order was presented to the Court, the Defendant filed this Motion for Reconsideration on May 19, 2011.

In the May 2, 2011 letter opinion, the Court concluded that no genuine issue of material fact existed as to the issue of ownership over the CBM located within the Subject Property and granted the Plaintiffs' Motion for Summary Judgment. In arriving at this conclusion, the Court's main focus was upon the application of relevant law to the language of three sequential deeds involving the Subject Property. The Court determined from the language of the deeds that the Plaintiffs owned the CBM located within the Subject Property.

II. Motion to Reconsider

In Harrison-Wyatt v. Ratliff, 267 Va. 549 (Va. 2004), the Supreme Court of Virginia stated, "the grant of coal rights does not include rights to CBM absent an express grant of coalbed methane, natural gas, or minerals in general." This rule was later codified by Va. Code Ann. § 45.1-361.21:1 and states, in part, "a conveyance, reservation, or exception of coal shall not be deemed to include coalbed methane gas..."

In the Motion to Reconsider, the Defendant asserts that the Court misapprehends the precedent set forth in Harrison-Wyatt and broadens the scope of the Supreme Court of Virginia's decision by: (1) deciding the ownership of the CBM as a matter of law; and (2) allowing Plaintiffs to trespass on the Defendant's property rights.

First, the Court disagrees that it should reconsider the May 2, 2011 letter opinion ruling based upon the fact that it decided ownership as a matter of law. Va. Sup. Ct. R. 3:20 provides the standard for granting Summary Judgment and allows for such a ruling only when there is no genuine dispute concerning any material fact. The relevant deeds in this matter are clear and final on the issue of ownership over the CBM located within the Subject Property. The Plaintiffs own the CBM. Because there is no genuine dispute concerning the issue of ownership in this declaratory judgment proceeding, summary judgment is appropriate.

Second, the Court disagrees that it should reconsider its decision based upon the Defendant's claim that the Court is permitting a trespass on the Defendant's property rights. The Defendant vigorously contends that by awarding the Plaintiffs ownership of the CBM, the Court is allowing the Plaintiffs to invade the coal seam, property of the Defendant, and is in effect permitting a trespass. The Court's ruling in this matter is confined to the sole issue of ownership over the CBM located within the Subject Property. Any issue of trespass in this matter, while possibly meritorious, is collateral to the issue of ownership. The law in Virginia is settled on the issue of CBM ownership when there is a conveyance, reservation, or exception of coal. Again, Va. Code Ann. § 45.1-361.21:1 states, in part, "a conveyance, reservation, or exception of coal shall not be deemed to include coalbed methane gas...." After applying this rule of law to the relevant deeds, it is patent that the Plaintiffs own the CBM located within the Subject Property.

III. Conclusion

It is unequivocally clear from the relevant deeds that the Defendant never received an express grant of coalbed methane, natural gas, or minerals in general in the Subject Property. The Defendant did receive an interest in the coal located within the Subject Property. Consequently, the Plaintiffs own the CBM located in the Subject Property. The Complaint for Declaratory Judgment filed in this case seeks to have the Court determine the ownership of CBM located within the Subject Property. The Court has determined that the Plaintiffs' are the owners of the CBM located within the Subject Property. Consequently, the Defendant Garden Realty Corporation's Motion and Memorandum for Reconsideration is denied.

Mr. Sexton is directed to circulate the prepared Order reflecting the findings of this Court's letter opinion dated May 2, 2011 to Mr. Whitesell and Mr. Gardner for endorsement and then to the Court for entry.

Sincerely,

Judge Keary R. Williams
